Nguyễn Minh Hiếu

Laravel developer

Hi, I am a programmer passionate about technology and love writing code to solve real life problems. I have experience programming with many different languages, but PHP and Javascript are two languages that I especially love and use frequently in my work.

I always try to learn and improve my programming skills to be able to meet the requirements of the job. I look forward to the opportunity to cooperate with colleagues and learn from them to develop myself and contribute to the growth of the company.
